

PRESIDENTE OF THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

For me it's a great honor to extend a warm invitation to all the investors to take advantage of the excellent climate of investment in the Dominican Republic.

Our country is actually one of the most attractive investment destinies of the region, endorsed by factors like macroeconomic stability, maintained economic growth, political maturity, independent law system, businesses and commercial experience and social peace.

In addition to these incentives, Dominican Republic has an abundant labor force, prepared and with productive experience, a vanguard telecommunication system, a safe and reliable banking sector, efficient infrastructure of businesses and an excellent transport service, vial net, load and freight, that it has allowed us to attract considerable numbers in foreign investment.

We're totally conscious that foreign investment is an indispensable factor to propel our economic development and improve the Dominicans life's standards, because we know it entails new job opportunities, currency generation and new transference technologies.

In this sense, this administration makes efforts to strengthen the democracy Institutions of the State and Dominican Society, as well the law empire in all dimensions, and particularly as far as modernization of the administrative procedures, regulatory frame and the laws that define the climate of investments in the country.

Also, the government that I preside has sent an offensive to revitalize national economic, improving production and investing resources in education, good social work, by improving infrastructure development and health services, energy, potable water, amongst others.

I invited you to share the future of a nation that renews and fortifies. Now, more than ever, it's the moment to invest in Dominican Republic.

We waited for you!

Sincerely,

Leonel Fernandez Reyna
President of the Dominican Republic
